

Christian Home Educators Encouragement and Resources

Guidelines for Conduct

We realize our actions and behavior reflect not only on ourselves and our families, but also on CHEER, the home schooling community, the body of Christ and ultimately our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore, we desire to hold to the highest standard of excellence in our conduct and behavior.

All members of CHEER shall agree to abide by the following guidelines at all CHEER functions and events, including field trips and Enrichment Days, and at all times on the premises of Perimeter Church. Membership in CHEER is conditioned upon strict adherence to this behavior policy. We are guests at Perimeter Church and wherever else we attend any event or field trip and shall behave accordingly.

- 4 Children must be under the direct supervision of a parent at all times. At no time is a child to be left unattended. During class activities that take place at Perimeter Church, parents accompany children to and from classes.
- 4 Always stay in the designated area. When attending a function at Perimeter Church, never roam the halls or go upstairs, into the auditorium or any other part of the church, school or offices.
- 4 There is to be no running or rough play, no loud or distracting talk, shouting, etc. Be attentive and respectful to tour guides, teachers, speakers and staff.
- 4 Children are to respect the authority of adults within CHEER and those we encounter on outside events.
- 4 Parents understand that their priority during events and functions of CHEER is the supervision and guidance of their children.

Our policy is set forth in order to ensure a smooth, positive and profitable experience for all who attend as well as those we come in contact with during our activities. Remember that we are ambassadors for Christ so we always want to leave a good impression wherever we go. (2 Cor. 5:20).
